

Syllabus: “Academic Writing”

International School, Winter Semester 2022/23

Kevin Rausch M.A.

Mondays, 15:30–17:00, room H0112

(a) Inhalt und Ansatz | Content and Approach

- In this course the students will:
 - understand writing as a process of brainstorming, outlining, drafting, and revising,
 - learn to write an argumentative essay supported by secondary research.
- Teaching methods are oriented towards student-centred learning and include activities such as mini-lectures, group work, peer review, and consultations with the instructor. Some elements of the course may be offered online; rooms and links will be announced in good time.
- Students require at least an upper-advanced level of English in order to follow the lessons.
- The course will take place in attendance, combined with a high share of self-studies.
- Completion of assignments and regular attendance (at least 80% of all sessions) are required for exam admission.
- 3 ECTS credits are granted for successful completion of the course. Therefore, students should be prepared to spend considerable time on working with the study content.
- It is recommended (though not obligatory) to attend this course alongside the “Academic Reading” course offered in the International School.
- Participants are required to register for the course via StudIP, where all teaching resources will be made available. Students that are not enrolled yet and therefore do not have access to StudIP need to send an e-mail to k.rausch@hs-sm.de.
- The script contains the following (exam-relevant) self-study material which students need to complete independently during the semester (only chapters 1–30):
Michael McCarthy & Felicity O’Dell (2017): English Collocations in Use. Cambridge University Press. Second edition.

(b) Qualifikationsziele | Learning Objectives

- This course is aimed at developing the writing skills for academic success.
- Students learn about and practice:
 - searching for and selecting credible sources for use in writing,
 - incorporating information from sources by summarizing, paraphrasing, and quoting it in ways that avoid plagiarism,
 - demonstrating critical thinking,
 - constructing an essay of a given style (e.g. argumentative, problem-solution) using the steps in process writing (outline/plan, draft, revision, final).

(c) Kursstruktur | Course Structure
