

Intensive German language courses during the lecture-free period

Two levels of the intensive German courses are offered and last for four weeks. They usually take place in March and September and are open to all foreign students with German knowledge ranging from a basic (A2) to an intermediate level (B1/B2). Please note that the above-mentioned levels are not fixed. The level of the courses we offer depend on the knowledge of the participants.

What can you expect?

- 5 German classes language per day with experienced language teachers (approx. 100 classes / month)
- a language exam at the end of the course
- a language certificate from the Schmalkalden University of Applied Sciences
- 3 ECTS if you attend the course regularly and pass the final exam
- Because the intensive German language courses during the lecture-free period are an extracurricular offer at the Schmalkalden University of Applied Sciences, a fee of 200 EUR per month is required. There must be a minimum number of 10 participants for the course to take place.
